

Frequently Asked Questions - EarlyJ Jewish & Israel Cultural Ambassador Program - Summer 2026

What is the purpose of the EarlyJ Jewish & Israel Cultural Ambassador Program?

This program offers a 17-day immersive seminar in Israel designed to strengthen Jewish identity, nurture a connection to Israel, and cultivate partnerships among Jewish Early Childhood Education (JECE) educators from Israel, the Bay Area and LA. Participants will have the opportunity to immerse themselves in Israeli culture while focusing on early childhood education. The program is fully funded by EarlyJ. Graduates will receive a one-time bonus, funded in partnership between EarlyJ and their preschool, 5 academic credits from Oranim College, and the title “Jewish & Israel Cultural Ambassador.”

This initiative offers JECE educators the opportunity to cultivate connections to Israel and the Jewish community while participating in graduate-level professional development. Ultimately, the program aims to strengthen Jewish identity and the global Jewish community by introducing JECE educators to innovative techniques and a supportive network.

What is the program’s rationale?

Our program is designed to integrate both theoretical and practical knowledge essential for effective JECE. Participants will expand their understanding of child development principles, the practical organization of educational settings that align with developmental stages, expertise in curriculum planning for early childhood education settings, and cultivate their skills to foster optimal growth and effective communication in relationships both with parents and the broader community.

The program aims to produce graduates who demonstrate a combination of practical and theoretical knowledge, with heightened self-awareness, cultural proficiency, and a keen understanding of their environment. The program fosters cultural, Israeli, and Jewish awareness, focusing on nurturing Jewish and Israeli identity. This is achieved through a multifaceted approach incorporating Torah narratives, children's literature, holiday traditions, and ceremonial practices. Additionally, the curriculum explores assimilation techniques that align with the developmental needs of educational frameworks in the Diaspora.

What are the educational goals?

- Strengthen Jewish identity and foster a sense of connection to Israel and the Jewish people within both local and Diaspora communities.
- Equip educators with the latest theoretical insights in the field of JECE.
- Further practical pedagogical proficiency tailored to the Jewish early childhood educational setting, emphasizing an Israeli community kibbutz orientation.
- Deepen an understanding of Israeli and Jewish culture, including practical insights into effectively integrating these cultural aspects.

Who is eligible to participate in the program?

The program will have 2 tracks:

- A. A program for leading educators from Jewish preschools from the Bay Area and Los Angeles including preschool directors, associate directors, assistant directors, and leading teachers with at least 5 years' experience in the field of early childhood education.
- B. A program for educators from Jewish preschools in the Bay Area and Los Angeles with at least 5 years' experience in early childhood education. These educators do not need to hold leading positions within their preschools.

What are the requirements for participation?

- Applicants must have a minimum of 5 years of experience in Jewish early childhood/preschool education
- Applicants must be currently teaching in a Jewish preschool classroom in the Bay Area or LA with or without holding a leadership role.
- Only educators from nonprofit Jewish preschools from the Bay Area or LA are eligible to apply for the program.
- Applicants must provide confirmation of previous training/studies in the early childhood field
- Applicants must submit a letter of recommendation from their superiors and take part in an interview process.

What are the program benefits?

- All expenses are covered. (Including flights)
- Upon completing the training and receiving a certificate, participants will receive a one-time bonus of $5,000. (EarlyJ and the preschool will evenly cover the one-time bonus of $5000.)
- Five academic credits from Oranim College
- At the end of the seminar, educators will receive the title of Jewish & Israel Cultural Ambassador.
- The bonus and the Ambassador title depend on each participant organizing related events/curriculum/programs at their preschool. The bonus will be awarded only after completion of their project in their preschools/communities.

What are the educators' responsibilities?

- Participation in all the Zoom meetings before and after the seminar in Israel.
- Participation in all the activities during the seminar in Israel.
- Project presentation upon completion of the program.
- Organizing 2-3 events in the preschool related to Israel during the year following the seminar in Israel.
- Educators are encouraged to remain at their current preschool or within a Jewish preschool in their area. If they choose not to, EarlyJ reserves the right to request reimbursement for the seminar costs.

What are the preschools' responsibilities?

- Identify educators to recommend for the program and provide recommendation letters.
- Each preschool and EarlyJ will evenly cover the one-time bonus of $5,000. EarlyJ will pay the preschool $2,500 and the preschool will pay the educator $5,000. The preschool will sign a letter agreeing to these terms. The bonus will be paid only after the educator completes all of their responsibilities. EarlyJ will inform the preschool when the bonus payment is due.
- We strongly encourage offering paid professional days off for educators to attend the seminar, so they do not have to use their vacation days.
- Please note that educators are expected to organize 2-3 events at their preschool during the year following their seminar in Israel otherwise EarlyJ reserves the right to request reimbursement for the seminar costs from the educator.
